

Rincon Wireless – Acceptable Use Policy

All Customers must comply with the policies and terms of this Acceptable Use Policy (the “AUP” or “Policy”). This Policy, including its use and behavior restrictions, is in addition to the restrictions contained in the Rincon Terms of Service (“Service Agreement”) and has been incorporated by reference into the Service Agreement. Any capitalized terms used herein shall have the same meaning as defined in the Service Agreement, if appropriate.

This AUP applies to the various services offered by Rincon Wireless (“Rincon” we,” “our,” or “us”), including Internet services, hourly technical support and other related services or installations (collectively, “Services”). Customer understands, acknowledges and agrees that Rincon reserves the right to immediately suspend or terminate any Service without prior notice for Customer’s failure to comply with any portion of this Policy or the Service Agreement. (Please see the Service Agreement for details on the suspension and termination policy.) Any violation of this Policy and Service Agreement may also lead to prosecution under local, state and/or federal law.

(a) “Acceptable use” is hereby defined as the normal activities associated with the Customer’s use of Rincon’s Services, including without limitation, usage of the Rincon Network and any other facilities for accessing the World Wide Web, Internet Relay Chat, USENET Newsgroups, Email, and other Internet-related features. Customer’s acceptable use of the Services will depend on whether Customer’s Services are designated as residential or commercial.

(i) Residential designation includes all Services designated primarily for personal, family and household use within a single home. Customer shall not use, or allow others to use the Services to operate any type of business or commercial enterprise as a primary purpose or for long-term.

(ii) Commercial designation includes all Services designed for use by a business, governmental, or institutional entity, or by an individual to provide goods or services for sale or lease or operating a commercial enterprise.

(iii) Customer shall not advertise that the Services are available for use by third parties or unauthorized users. Customer shall not resell or redistribute, or allow others to resell or redistribute, access to the Services in any manner, including, but not limited to, wireless technology.

(b) “General Prohibited Activities for All Services” include without limitation the following, whether any such use or behavior is conducted negligently, recklessly, knowingly, or intentionally:

(i) Misusing the Services, regardless of whether the inappropriate or unlawful use or activity was committed by an invitee, licensee, agent, servant, guest, patron, visitor, employee or any other person who gains access to the Services. Therefore, Customer is responsible to take steps to ensure that others do not gain unauthorized access to the Services, for instance by strictly maintaining the confidentiality of Customer's passwords or by appropriately protecting the use of Customer's computer, network or any wireless devices. Customer is solely responsible for the security of any device Customer chooses to connect to the Services, including any data stored on that device.

- (ii) Using Services to distribute or receive content that is illegal, threatening, abusive, harassing, defamatory, libelous, tortious, malicious, indecent, obscene, deceptive, fraudulent, invasive of another's privacy or other rights, or otherwise objectionable in Rincon's sole discretion.

- (viii) Interfering with or disrupting networks connected to the Services or violating the regulations, policies or procedures of such networks.
- (ix) Attempting to gain unauthorized access to the Services, other accounts, computer systems, devices, or networks connected to the Services, through password mining or any other means.
- (x) Hosting any type of harmful publicly accessible file sharing, gaming, or email server including, but not limited to HTTP, FTP, SMTP, POP3, and Peer-to-Peer that could interfere with the technical operations of the Rincon Network, or could interfere with another Customer or user's use and enjoyment of the Services.

sole discretion, such as (a) using the Services to host a web server site which attracts excessive traffic at Customer's location; (b) continuously uploading or downloading streaming video or audio, USENET hosting, or continuous FTP uploading or downloading; and/or (c) continued use of programs or commands which take a large amount of system resources (e.g. processor time, memory, network bandwidth, and/or drive space on the host system). These activities can hamper the delivery of or disrupt the technical performance of the Services to all Customers.

Where appropriate, Rincon will attempt to notify Customer of any activity in violation of the Policies and request that Customer and its User(s) cease such activity. However, in cases where the viability of the Services is threatened or cases involving UCE/SPAM, mail relaying, alteration of source IP address information, denial of service attacks, harassment or copyright infringement, nuisance or any other illegal activity, Rincon reserves the right to suspend or terminate the Services or the Customer's access to the Services without prior notification.

In addition, Rincon may take any appropriate action, legal or otherwise, against Customer for violations of the Policy or any Applicable Law. Furthermore, Rincon makes no promise, nor alleges any obligation, to monitor or police activity occurring via the Services.
